Kansas' Crisis Continuum of Care

David Johnson is the Crisis Program Manager for the Behavioral Health Services Commission at the Kansas Department for Aging and Disability Services. He is seasoned in social service with 25 years of experience in diverse settings varying from the sacred to clinical to the homeless shelter.

Prior to his current role, David served as the Assistant Director for Men's Services with the Topeka Rescue Mission, a non-profit ministry in Topeka, KS providing homeless shelter services. David served a role in Hospice care as a Chaplain for several years as well. His vocational career began and spanned nearly twenty years in pastoral ministry, shepherding congregations in rural, suburban, and urban settings.

David holds a master's degree in educational ministry from Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary along with a bachelor's in Human Development and Family Studies from Texas Tech University.

David was born and raised in DeSoto, TX, a suburb of Dallas. David moved to Kansas in the Summer of 1999 where he soon met his wife, Elizabeth. He is the father of four sons who are the joy of his life.

David has grown into an avid enjoyer of Fantasy Football. He also likes flower gardening and routinely savoring an iced white chocolate and caramel latte.

ROBLOX – Jason O'Malley- Law Enforcement Liaison Manager

Laura Brake is the Director of Crisis Services for the Behavioral Health Services Commission at the Kansas Department for Aging and Disability Services. She has over 30 years of experience in the fields of mental health and intellectual and developmental disabilities.

Prior to her current position, Laura served as a crisis intervention team (CIT) co-responder in Topeka, KS, working with Topeka Police Department and Shawnee County Sheriff's Office. Laura has experience in risk management, case management and teaching, as she is also an adjunct professor at Washburn University.

Laura serves as the liaison for the Governor's Behavioral Health Services Planning Council, Service Members, Veterans, Family (SMVF) sub-committee and is a board member of Kansas Crisis Intervention Team Association (KCITA).

Laura holds a master's degree from Washburn University in Health Care Education as well as a bachelor's in psychology and criminal justice from New Mexico State University.

Laura was born and raised in Dallas, TX and then moved to Las Cruces, NM, Los Angeles, CA, Austin, TX and has grown her roots in Topeka, KS. In her spare time, Laura is an avid yogi who believes that strength, flexibility and balance are developed on the mat, and are equally important off the mat.

Chief Brandon Russell
Chief of Police, Derby Police Department

Brandon Russell has served as Chief of Police for the Derby Police Department since June 2023, bringing with him a deep and diverse background in law enforcement and public service. His career has spanned roles as Officer, Master Patrol Officer, Sergeant, Lieutenant, and Deputy Chief, and includes experience with the Wichita State University Police Department and as a uniformed officer with the Central Intelligence Agency.

A former U.S. Marine Corps Reservist with a final MOS in Counterintelligence, Chief Russell brings a strategic and people-focused leadership style to the department. He is passionate about building a culture rooted in team cohesion, succession planning, and employee development—ensuring Derby is served by well-supported, highly capable officers. He prioritizes officer wellness and strives to create an environment where team members feel heard, supported, and able to maintain a healthy balance between their professional and personal lives.

Under his leadership, the Derby Police Department has shifted its internal culture to reflect a more intentional, values-based approach—focusing not only on how the department performs, but also on what it believes and how it presents itself to the public.

Chief Russell holds a Bachelor of Science in Criminal Justice from Wichita State University. He is a graduate of the Kansas Police Administrators Seminar, the Central States Law Enforcement Executive Development Seminar, and Northwestern University's School of Police Staff and Command.

Deputy Chief Lem Moore

Deputy Chief of Police Derby Police Department

Lem Moore currently serves as the Deputy Chief of the Derby Police Department, a position he has held since 2023. In this role, he oversees the department’s budgeting, internal investigations, and day-to-day operations, playing a vital role in ensuring organizational effectiveness and accountability.

Deputy Chief Moore brings more than three decades of distinguished law enforcement experience to his position. He retired from the Wichita Police Department after 31 years of service, culminating in his appointment as Interim Chief of Police. Throughout his career in Wichita, he served in a wide range of assignments including DARE, Neighborhood Watch, the Exploited and Missing Children Unit, undercover narcotics, professional standards, and community policing—demonstrating a strong commitment to both public safety and community engagement.

A former U.S. Marine Corps Reservist, Moore brings a disciplined, mission-driven mindset to public service. He holds a bachelor’s degree in business administration from Tabor College and a master’s degree in public administration from Wichita State University, reflecting his dedication to professional development and effective leadership in public safety.

Anthony Bandiero, JD, ALM

Anthony Bandiero is a police officer turned attorney. As a police officer he realized the need for additional training to better understand search and seizure law as it pertains to the Fourth and Fifth Amendments. After earning his law degree, Anthony has dedicated his life to passing along his knowledge and experience.

Anthony's passion is providing in depth legal training to his fellow officers. Attend one of his classes and you will quickly see how he makes the learning fun and informative with his high energy and positive attitude.

In addition to teaching, speaking and keeping up with the latest legal trends, Anthony enjoys boating and traveling with his family.
